

Cuthbert Collingwood—a Hero?

Vice Admiral Cuthbert Collingwood was second only to Horatio Nelson as the most famous sailor who fought the French during the war against Napoleon Bonaparte.

What sort of man was he? Cruel? Kind? Warm or cold hearted?

What sort of leader was he? Did he make good or bad decisions? Did he earn the respect or hatred of his officers and men?

It's time for you to look through the evidence and decide.

For

Against

My judgement is...